Good Sam CEO receives award

Mark Nosacka, chief executive officer of Good Samaritan Medical Center, recently won the Chamber of Commerce of the Palm Beaches 2011 Health/Science Professional of the Year award.

Nosacka received the award for overseeing the expansion of medical staff, programs and services at Good Samaritan, including establishing a Primary Stroke Center. The award was presented at a recent Chamber awards breakfast.

"We congratulate Mark Nosacka on his well-deserved award. He is a true leader in the eyes of Good Samaritan Medical Center's employees, patients and among the local community," said Marsha Powers, senior vice president, Tenet Florida Region.

More than 400 community and business leaders gathered at the Palm Beach County Convention Center for the annual awards breakfast.
